March 3–4 in Maitland, Fla. and March 17–18 in Jacksonville, Fla.

SPACE IS LIMITED: Register today to ensure your space in this course.

Essentials of Mortgage Origination is a highly interactive classroom-based course that focuses on the fundamentals of successful loan production. This NMLS-approved course provides an overview of associated disciplines critical to a complete understanding of mortgage loan production, including origination, processing, underwriting, closing, shipping and delivery, real estate law, fraud and quality assurance.

Throughout the information-packed course, participants engage in several thought-provoking exercises. Students interact with industry experts who enhance the instruction with practical industry examples. The course concludes with a final comprehensive case study that allows participants to practice making real-life business decisions utilizing the concepts they have learned over the duration of the course. Students leave with a solid foundation in residential mortgage origination. They understand the role and importance of the loan production, regulatory compliance and quality assurance functions in the mortgage banking industry.
